A. C. Kessell, Esq.,
c/o The Agent General,
Victoria Street,
Westminster, London.

Dear Mr. Kessell,

I trust that you received the bundle of weapons and the note that I sent down to the "Orontes" yesterday. My messenger was not able to find you but he left them with the purser, for he was too late at the Palace Hotel as you had left. It was a great rush to get the things off for several of my staff were away. Trusting that you have got them alright and had a pleasant voyage,

Believe me,

Yours very truly,

DIRECTOR.
